RELIEF METHODS ANALYZED DURING COMMITTEE STUDY

Andreas' Name Mentioned in San Bernardino Hearing Yesterday

Administration of relief in San Bernardino county was analyzed by a special legislative committee in an all-day hearing in the county seat yesterday. William Fitzer, director of the county SRA, was on the stand for hours telling in detail how the relief is managed.

Frederic Houser, Alhambra assemblyman, chairman of the committee, expressed the conclusion last night that "No such situation is evident in San Bernardino county" as in Los Angeles county, where "relief was fraught with politics and that the intake of clients had been considerably liberalized by a 'changed psychological viewpoint' under Governor Olson's administration."

VERY LITTLE PRESSURE

Mr. Fitzer declared, in answering questions, that very little political pressure has been put upon him. He reported, however, that Assemblyman Godfrey Andreas had "brought several people to my office from time to time, said they were qualified and asked if I could take care of them when openings in the administration staff occurred."

Mr. Fitzer said he had appointed only one of the persons and expressed the belief that Mr. Andreas made the requests only out of friendship for the individuals and not because of any political significance.

GRIER TELLS VIEWS

C. E. Grier, chairman of the county board of supervisors, was the first person on the stand at opening of the session yesterday morning. He was questioned about his views on relief and about the proposed plan of changing relief administration to the counties.

The Uplander, chairman of the county board of supervisors, replied:

"I think we all feel the legislature at the special session did a fine job with the relief bill, under the circumstances. The appropriation was sufficient, as was proved when the state began restoring budget cuts that followed its adoption.

"We are concerned a little by the three-year residence qualification in the bill, because it lays the counties open to responsibility for those who have resided in California one year but less than three years. The supreme court has held that the counties must care for those unqualified for state aid, if they have lived in the state one year.

ASKS SAFEGUARD

"Our board of supervisors is not asking for return of relief to the counties. However, I feel that a return of administration to counties would increase efficiency by eliminating duplication, provided that the counties were fully safeguarded against financial responsibility beyond their means. We must have this safeguard. It is in the current bill to as great an extent as was possible at a special session, but it must be included fully when a permanent relief program is adopted by the next regular session.

"With counties properly safeguarded, this board does feel that an integrated program would be the most advantageous. That would be a program set up according to state standards, with state supervision and with state appropriation of funds, but with local administration."

Wild Flower Data Is Available Here

Orphans Adopted by CCC Boys On Easter Sunday

Each little orphan at the Children's Home in Ontario really belonged to someone Easter Sunday.

Each of the 41 children in the Church of Christ home was adopted by a big brother. In fact, some of the children claimed two big brothers each.

Seventy-five CCC boys at the Cucamonga camp were the big brothers for the orphans when the camp was turned over to youthful visitors Sunday.

Boys accustomed to living in barracks and more adept at handling shovels than youngsters, rose to the occasion and proved perfect hosts for the afternoon.

Children arrived at camp at 2:30 p. m. An Easter egg hunt proved the first event of the afternoon. Colored hard-boiled eggs, hidden for the hunt, were marked with money values and were redeemed by the commanding officer, Lieut. Don Greelis, from his own purse. Eggs were marked from 1 cent to 50 cents.

Then each child was given an Easter basket filled with candy. As the climax to the afternoon, a bountiful Easter supper, including chicken, milk and ice cream, was served. The young guests departed shortly before 6 o'clock.

VARIETY FEATURES DANCER'S PROGRAM

Angna Enters Arranges Wide Selection for Chaffey Audience

Versatility will be the key-note of the program to be presented by Angna Enters in Chaffey auditorium tonight. In 11 dramatic and dance selections she will give a graceful and colorful picture of the outstanding characters in history and modern life.

For her opening number, Miss Enters has chosen "American Ballet", dedicated to the tumultuous times of the World war.

With Delsarte and his very modern interpretation of art and drama as an inspiration, the brilliant young choryphee has also arranged a number entitled "Oh, the Pain of It", a dance in the abstract manner.

One of Miss Enters' most unusual novelty numbers is based upon the old nursery rhyme, "Little Sally Water". In this she shows, through the use of a single hair ribbon, the phases of growth from childhood ingenuousness to the cynical adult.

Also included on her program tonight will be three numbers which she presented at the request of President and Mrs. Roosevelt.. These are "American Ballet", "Field Day" and "Commencement".

Gilliland Gardens Win Three Firsts In Floral Display

Three first prizes and one second were won by the Gilliland Gardens in four entries at the National Orange show which ended Sunday night.

At regular intervals the competing exhibitors entered new floral displays and judging was made with each new entry. Three firsts were won by the local nursery on its last three entries with the second being won on the first display. Seven nurseries in Pomona, Redlands and San Bernardino competed. Howard Asper, manager of the local flower shop, was in general charge of the prize winning displays.

Ella Miner of the Upland Citrus association was another contestant in the finals. Decision of the judges was based on the following system: 40 points for speed, 20 points for wrapping, 20 for twisting and 20 for general appearance.

CITRUS PROBLEMS TOPIC THURSDAY

PALMER EXPLAINS COST OF SCHOOLS

Member of Chaffey Board Explains Increased Taxes Caused by Relief

Don E. Palmer, member of the Chaffey board of education, was the speaker at the meeting of the Upland Rotary club at Red Hill Country club today noon. Mr. Palmer, by request, spoke on the tax situation and cost of maintaining the Chaffty high school and junior college. He illustratea his very interesting talk by charts and graphs, telling how the school district receives its income and how it is spent. His figures showed that during the past severa. years the improvement program has been in progress approximately $1,612,000 has been spent on new buildings and equipment--but a large portion of this amount did not come from local taxes.

Mr. Palmer demonstrated that while there has been a great increase in average daily attendance at Chaffey during the past ten years property is now paying less taxes for that purpose than at that time. He also pointed out that city and county costs have been reduced in that time and emphasized the fact that the tax bills of the people are larger now because of the large sums spent for relief. In his demonstration Mr. Palmer took a specific piece of property and noted the actual amounts of taxes for school purposes during the period discussed.

Sam B. Rowe, the club's newest member, was program chairman and presented the speaker. Owen Atwood, club president, presided. President Atwood also spoke the sentiment of the entire club when he paid a fine tribute to William H. S. Black, who passed away Saturday and who was a former member of No. 1 Rotary club in Chicago and attended the Upland club many times since making his home here.

JOE HADZIMA TO REPRESENT CLUBS IN SPEECH EVENT

Lions' Representative for District Contest Chosen Today

Three Upland students participated in the third annual Upland-Ontario Lions club speakers contest in Ontario at noon today with Joe Hadzima placing first. Betty Ann Horsch, who has placed first in recent contests, was second in the standings with Ray Brian third, All contestants are Chaffey high school students.

"Over There and Over Here" was the general theme of the speakers' appealing orations. Each speaker dealt upon some phase of the subject and in an impassioned appeal Hadzima challenged the people to support the constitution and to solve the ills of the nation.

Title of the winning oration was "The Will To Be Free". He will represent the two clubs in the Citrus Belt Council Lions contest at San Bernardino Thursday night. Hadzima will also deliver his oration at the Upland Lions club meeting at noon Thursday.

Norman S. Lawson announced the judges' results at today's meeting. Miss Lois LeBaron, public speaking coach, was introduced.

Announcement was also made of the new officers of the Ontario club. Ed Clements was named president; Warren Smith, vice president; Herbert Naylor, secretary, and Carl Weber, director.

Only by coincidence were all the contestants today from Upland. Students interested in participating were given an opportunity to try for the cash prizes and the right to represent the two Lions clubs in the district finals and, if successful, in the state contest.

In the district contest will be student speakers from clubs in the citrus belt.

Want to Run Like Seabiscuit? Then Eat Citrus Fruit

Do you want to run like Seabiscuit?

Then don't forget your daily quota of orange, lemon or grapefruit.

According to recent announcement, some race horse owners are finding horses feel better and run faster when they are fed citrus fruits.

Since Upland is located in the heart of the citrus belt, it should not be difficult for local residents to emulate the aristocrats of the race track.

Warmest Winter, But Fewer Sunshiny Days

The past winter has been the warmest in many years. There has also been less sunshine and higher relative humidity. These conclusions are contained in a record being kept by George P. Weldon of Chaffey junior college faculty in connection with work on delayed foliation.

Since 1924, Mr. Weldon has recorded the minimum and the maximum temperatures for December, January, and until February 15. The average of the two extremes is taken as the mean temperature.

TEN DEGREES WARMER

During the past winter the average has been 54.25 degrees. This average is almost ten degrees warmer than the cold winter of 1936-37, when the average was 45.1. Two other winters were also exceptionally cold. In 1931-32, the average was 45.9; in 1933-34, 46.3.

The relative humidity for the past year has been 62 per cent, and the sun shone 62.5 per cent of the daylight hours. In other winters the percentage of daylight hours that have been "sunshine hours" have averaged as high as 85 per cent. The usual average for "sunshine hours" is 75 per cent.

It is a curious fact that the winter of 1926-27 was almost identical with the current winter in the amount of humidity and sunshine. However, the average temperature for that winter was 49.3 degrees, or about five degrees colder than 1939-40.

What effect does the temperature, relative humidity and amount of sunshine have on deciduous fruit crops?

The three coldest winters resulted in wonderful fruit crops, Mr. Weldon reports.

In 1926-27, when the weather was warmer, but humidity high and number of sunshine hours low, the crop was moderately good.

This year, delayed foliation will mean virtual crop failures for many old varieties of fruit.

In the Cucamonga peach district, however, the crop appears to be fairly promising, despite the warm winter.

However, temperature appears to be the chief determining factor in the deciduous fruit crops, Mr. Weldon concludes. It is more important than relative humidity and the number of hours the sun shines.

Mr. Weldon has done pioneer work in developing varieties of peaches which can survive the warm winters here.

NAVEL HARVEST IS NEARLY HALF OVER AS WORK CONTINUES

Citrus Workers Busy in Groves And Packing Houses in Handling Crop

With approximately 50 per cent of the Navel crop from the local district having been shipped, orange houses consider their job about half done.

Recent figures released by the federal government estimate that the total orange supply of the United States this season is 8,000,000 boxes less than a year ago. With the crop from California and Arizona being approximately the same as a year ago, the decrease is caused by the freeze in Florida and Texas in January.

The good quality of the current Navel crop—with very little cullage necessary — indicates that when the season comes to an end growers will find better returns per acre than last year when heavy cullage as necessary because of the predominance of small sizes.

Casa Colina Will Continue Sale of Stamps for Month

The so-called Easter seal campaign being held for the purpose of securing money to aid crippled children has not closed with the passing of the Easter season, it was stated today by an official at Casa Colina home for crippled children at Chino.

The sale of the seals will be continued until April 29 and the seals may appropriately be placed upon letters at any time during the year.

The campaign is sponsored by the California Society for the Aid of Crippled Children.

The team itself, which included, besides the two Upland boys, Rex Rogers of Ontario, was awarded a loving cup for first place in the entire contest; two blue ribbons for appraisals of orange and grapefruit, and a third place for boxes.

21 States, Canada and Japan Represented by Guests Since Feb. 15

Sixty-six baskets of citrus fruit have been given to Upland visitors from 21 states, Canada and Japan since Feb. 15.

As a courtesy to all out-of-state visitors here, local citrus growers, the Upland chamber of commerce and The Upland News give an attractively decorated basket of the community's golden crop.

A record of the visitors as maintained by The News reveals that Upland has been the host city for people from the following states: Iowa, New York, Wyoming, Pennsylvania, Utah, Ohio, Nevada, Colorado, Washington, Tennessee, Michigan, Kansas, Illinois, Nebraska, Florida, Oregon, Montana, South Dakota, Indiana, Minnesota and North Dakota. In addition visitors have been here from Canada and Japan.

As a result of the cooperation given by the general public, names of out-of-state visitors have been obtained by The News. Packers at a local citrus association prepare a basket. Wrapped attractively in cellophane and draped with ribbon, the basket is then delivered by The News to the visitor.

It is expected this token will be given throughout the year to all out-of-state visitors. The number of recipients since last month is considered unusually large.

The Courts—An Answer to the Consolidation Idea

BY RICHARD IBANEZ

The editor of The News seems to think that the same man, or woman, should preside over the local justice's court and over the local police court in the interests of "economy".

The justice of the peace is elected by the people of Upland township. His salary is fixed by the supervisors under the county charter. The police judge is appointed by the council, who fix the salary. Hence, it is inevitable that if the same man, or woman, presides over both courts, it will always be the justice of the peace.

If we assume that The News is correct in stating that there will be a distinct saving in so doing, the net result will be that the local justice of the peace will always be the local police judge also. The right to appoint the police judge would then be practically taken away from the city council. The only way the council could control the police judge would be for its members, and the public generally, to see that the person elected as justice of the peace was the person desired also to act as police judge.

But first of all I am of the impression that The News is decidedly wrong in assuming that there would be any "economy" in following this policy. The justice of the peace of Upland township draws $175 a month—this provides also for a clerk. The present police judge is paid $100.00 a month. We know that the annual income from the police court, principally through fines secured from traffic violations, approaches $14,000. That is a large sum of money. It is quite possible that if the same person presides over both courts, three-quarters, or even four-fifths of all the work will be police court work. Of course the salary of the justice of the peace cannot be reduced. But suppose we reduce the present salary of the police judge to $75.00 a month, thus making a saving of $25. That would still mean that for $175 a month the justice of the peace would do a small portion of his work, while for $75 as police judge he would be expected to do a business of about $14,000 a year. With this disparity of salaries for work done, coupled with the possibility of legal conflict in jurisdiction between the two courts, one can well imagine what office would be favored.

This question of appointing the justice of the peace to also act as police judge has been presented a number of times during the past four or five years. When Mayor McQuillen was in office the council seriously considered the matter and came to the conclusion that there would be a distinct economy to the city in keeping the offices separate. A majority of the city council recently seemed to think the same way. My personal impression is that almost anybody, with full knowledge of the facts, would think the same way.

I suggest to the editor of The News that if he will inquire of any city official having knowledge of the matter, he may revise his opinion about this question of "economy". What The News calls "consolidation" of the two offices might prove exceedingly "uneconomical". Possibly the members of the city council are as deeply concerned over questions of economy as is the editor of The News, and I am of the impression that we may safely leave this matter to their discretion. That is far different from starting out with the assumption, as does The News, that to "consolidate" the two offices would mean a saving to the taxpayer.

With the volume of business done by the police court, doesn't it occur to the editor of The News to ask the question, how can one person do the work in both of these offices, and do it properly? The first thing perhaps required, would be to hire a clerk for the police judge, say at $50 or $75 a month. What happens to the "economy"?

Perhaps we had better leave these things to the members of the city council, whose efforts towards economy have been demonstrated on many occasions.

Miss Dorcas Alderfer And Lowell Hoover Exchange Vows

Selecting the Brethren in Christ church as the scene of their wedding, Miss Dorcas Alderfer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Alderfer of Baker avenue, and Lowell Hoover of Abilene, Kan., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hoover, also of Abilene, were united in marriage Saturday evening.

The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock in the presence of approximately 175 guests, the officiating minister being Dr. H. G. Brubaker, president of Beulah college, now on sabbatical leave.

The church was beautifully decorated for the nuptial occasion. Against a background of potted palms and fernery were large baskets of white stock and larkspur and centering this arrangement was a tall fan shaped candelabrum, while on each side stood a candelabrum bearing seven lighted candles.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Bertha C. Palmer, pianist, played "Sabbath Chimes", "At Dawning" (Cadman) and "The Rosary" (Nevin). Accompanied by Miss Palmer Mrs. Eldon F. Bert sang "Because" (deHardelot) and she and Miss Helen Rahn of Los Angeles sang as a duet, "I Love You Truly" (Bond).

The traditional wedding march, "The Bridal Chorus" from Wagner's "Lohengrin" as the processional, was played by Miss Palmer.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor length gown of white silk crepe and carried an arm bouquet of white sweet peas and roses.

As maid of honor Miss Pauline Alderfer, sister of the bride, wore a floor length gown of sky blue alpaca. Her arm bouquet was fashioned of pink sweet peas.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Harold Hoover of Abilene, as best man, and the ushers were James Alderfer, brother of the bride; Paul Book, Maynard Engle and Clyde Zook, cousin of the bride, all of Upland.

Serving as flower girl was dainty little Miss Gail Frymire of Lemoore, cousin of the bride, wearing a floor length frock of pink dotted swiss.

Mrs. Alderfer, mother of the bride, wore a dress of navy blue crepe and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Hoover, was attired in navy blue alpaca. Each wore a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church hall, where a wedding collation was served. The bride's table, adorned with white sweet peas and lighted candles, was centered with a handsomely decorated wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover left for a few days visit in Santa Barbara, the bride wearing a traveling suit of black triple cord with black accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Beulah college, having completed both the high school and the junior college courses. Mr. Hoover graduated from the Abilene high school and from Beulah college, where he completed the junior college course.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover will make their home on a farm near Abilene, Kan.

AMERICAN BOY MAGAZINE COMPANION TO THOUSANDS

Hundreds of thousands of boys and young men read The American Boy magazine every month and consider it more as a living companion than as a magazine.

"It's as much a buddy to me as my neighborhood chum," writes one high school senior. "The American Boy seems to understand a boy's problems and considers them in such a sympathetic and helpful way. It gives advice and entertaining reading on every subject in which a young fellow is interested. It is particularly helpful in sports. I made our school basketball team because of playing tips I read in The American Boy."

Many famous athletes in all sports credit much of their success to helpful suggestions received from sports articles carried in The American Boy magazine. Virtually every issue offers advice from a famous coach or player. Football, basketball, track, tennis, in fact every major sport is covered in fiction and fact articles.

Teachers, librarians, parents and leaders of boys clubs also recommend The American Boy enthusiastically. They have found that as a general rule regular readers of The American Boy advance more rapidly and develop more worthwhile characteristics than do boys who do not read it.

Trained writers and artists, famous coaches and athletes, explorers, scientists and men successful in business and industry join with an experienced staff to produce in The American Boy the sort of reading matter boys like best.

The American Boy sells on most newsstands at 20c a copy. Subscription prices are $2.00 for one year or $3.50 for three years. Foreign rates 50c a year extra. To subscribe simply send your name, address and remittance direct to The American Boy, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Michigan. 1tx

LOCAL HOOPSTERS IN GOOD RECORD

Junior High Teams Produce High Rating During Season's Games

Both the eighth and the ninth grade basketball teams at the Upland junior high school proved to be of championship proficiency during the inter-school tournament recently completed.

According to figures released by the coach, Edwin Dean, the ninth graders played seven games with teams from other schools, winning five of that number. The local team chalked up 98 points against 65 points made by their opponents.

In this team were Howard Drake (captain), Joe Rodriguez, Lowell Hays, Crawford Anderson, Sheldon Hall, John Blanton, David Myers and Gene Leete.

MARK IS BOOSTED

The eighth grade hoopsters made even a better record than did the elder team, playing 10 inter-school games and winning nine.

Number of points made by this team, coached by Ernest R. Camfield, totaled 160, to their opponents' 120.

The team personnel was Vincent Melendrez, Ivan Hays, James Greiner, Robert Dunning, Lindell Jones, Donald Drake, Paul Campbell, Richard DuVall, Nelvice Alexander, Bleecker Wass, Glenn Maxie and Ted Atwood. The high point players were Melendrez, Dunning, Hays and Greiner.

Charter Is Draped For Two Deceased Members of Corps

With Mrs. R. A. Martin presiding, the regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps was held Thursday afternoon at the W. R. C. Memorial hall in Ontario. More than 30 members were in attendance.

An event of interest to all the members was the draping of the corps charter in memory of two recently deceased and well loved members of the chapter, Mrs. Laura Holsclaw and Mrs. Victoria Christman. The ritualistic ceremony was conducted by the chaplain, Mrs. Emma Hamilton, with the assistance of the conductor, the assistant conductor and the four flag bearers.

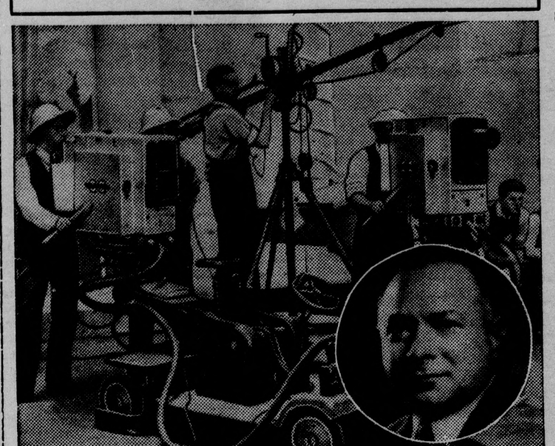

Among the various reports made during the business session were those showing that during the past month 29 bouquets presented, 108 calls made and relief contributions other than cash valued at $28.

Announcement was made of the meeting of Federation No. 2 to be held in Redlands on April 1, and of the Red, White and Blue club meeting at the Memorial hall on April 2, when a contributed dish luncheon will be served.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY TO GET $4000 RADIO SCHOLARSHIP

RCA engineers televising a studio show. (Insert) David Sarnoff, RCA President, encourages talent.

THE outstanding radio scientist of the future will be given a flying start toward his goal through the award of a $4000 college scholarship next Fall, according to a plan announced today by David Sarnoff, President of the Radio Corporation of America.

Realizing that tomorrow's radio engineering talent is to be found among the boys who are now in the senior classes of high schools, Mr. Sarnoff intends to find the student who is best fitted by brains and natural ability to succeed in a scientific career. To this end, a competition is being offered this week through the Principals of 17,000 high schools throughout the United States to students who are qualified by high scholastic standings.

Ten preliminary winners will be selected on the basis of their ratings in this examination. All of them will be brought to New York next August at the expense of the company, and will spend a month in thorough inspections of RCA and NBC engineering facilities. The Judges will select one of the ten boys as the final winner of the $4000 tuition and maintenance scholarship. The others will receive cash awards of $100 each in addition to full expenses of the trips, which will include visits to many scientific exhibits at the New York World's Fair.

Mr. Sarnoff, who himself rose unaided from messenger boy to the head of the mammoth RCA organization, believes that the competition will bring to the fore a boy of outstanding ability and that the scholarship will enable him to lay a solid foundation for a successful career. It is expected that several local high school seniors will be able to qualify for the examination, which will be given on Aprfl 23rd.

Library Ahead in Observing Annual Garden Book Week

BY MRS. F. H. MANGER
LIBRARIAN

Upland librarians "put one over" on the east at the library last week by celebrating garden book week almost a month ahead of the scheduled time "back home".

A gay poster called attention to the garden books now in the library, and really we do have some nice ones. There also are small booklets on "Books Help Make a Garden Grow", which give a splendid list of books that can be purchased for home gardeners. A few of them the library owns and will be glad to lend to anyone interested.

In the library may be found "Flowering Earth", by Donald Culross Peattie, who, as a philosopher and poet, makes the whole flowering earth his reader's garden. "Hardy Chrysanthemums", by Alex Cumming, is at once a brief history of the development of modern outdoor chrysanthemums and a concise manual of how to handle them. A beautiful book of "Garden Flowers in Color" has over 400 photographs in color, very useful for a scheme in color in the garden. More than 40,000 plants are presented in "Standard Cyclopedia of Horticulture", and practically everything needed or wanted can be found in "New Illustrated Gardening Encyclopedia". Beside the books mentioned there are to be found books on California shrubs suitable to be planted in this vicinity. Others on trees, on vegetable gardening, on herb gardening are available, beside garden furniture, trellis ork, outdoor fireplaces, pergolas, etc.

BOOKS GIVEN LIBRARY

A "friend of the library" brought in 24 books and pamphlets Monday for the use of the public. Among them are books of fiction, travel books, books on the causes and effects of the war, and other subjects needed in the library. This helps the book fund which, as in most libraries, is sadly depleted about this time of year, the Upland library being no exception. A new, clean copy of a book not now in the library is certainly a thing to be thankful for.

Four Unit Members Attend Meeting of Auxiliary Council

Four members of the Upland unit of the American Legion Woman's Auxiliary, including Mrs. Chas. V. Benson, president; Miss Elizabeth Fossett, Mrs. Thos. E. Howarton and Mrs. Nellie Jones, attended the Auxiliary Inter-County Council meeting held on a recent evening in Bloomington.

A business session, which followed the dinner served early in the evening, was conducted by the council president, Mrs. William Shannon of Norco.

Of interest to all Legion Auxiliary members was the announcement that on April 22 Mrs. William Corwith of New York, national president of the Auxiliary, will be the honored guest at a district luncheon meeting to be held at the Mission Inn in Riverside.

Concerning the membership, Mrs. Shannon announced that the district quota is short only 89 members and urged that the units make up that number by March 31. The Upland unit secured its quota some time ago, according to Mrs. Benson.

Following the business session, Norman Henderson, an investigator for the San Bernardino district attorney's office, discussed the activities of agents of foreign countries and told specifically of the case of a man who was serving as an agent of the Nazi government.
